

WAEF Awards Record $1.3 Million in Scholarships to More Than 320 Students

Wenatchee, Wash... The Washington Apple Education Foundation (WAEF) is awarding a record $1.3 million in scholarships to more than 320 students for the 2026–2027 academic year.

“This is a record year for WAEF, made possible by the remarkable generosity of the tree fruit industry and our donors,” said WAEF Board Chairman Tyler Price. “Even when conditions within the industry are challenging, WAEF supporters continue to come through in big ways for students. We are deeply grateful for their commitment.”

Approximately 75% of WAEF scholarship recipients are first generation college students. Scholarships are renewable annually so long as students meet academic requirements. Beyond financial assistance, WAEF supports students through mentoring, career exploration, professional development and opportunities to connect with industry volunteers and one another.
